Getting Started with Interviewing Oral History at TCTC Library

If you’re thinking about conducting your own oral history interview at the TCTC Library, it helps to approach the process with preparation and respect. Here are key steps and tips to guide your journey:

1. Research and Planning

Before the interview, spend time researching the topic or individual you plan to interview. Understanding the historical context helps you ask meaningful questions and engage your interviewee more thoughtfully. At the TCTC Library, you can access archives, local history books, and previous oral history recordings to build a solid foundation.

2. Crafting Thoughtful Questions

Effective oral history interviews depend on open-ended questions that encourage detailed storytelling rather than simple yes/no answers. For example, instead of asking, “Did you work in this town?”, try “Can you describe your experience working in this town and how it shaped your life?” This approach invites richer responses and deeper insights.

3. Setting Up the Interview Environment

Creating a comfortable and quiet space is crucial for capturing clear audio and making your interviewee feel at ease. The TCTC Library often provides designated recording rooms equipped with necessary technology, or you can bring your own recording devices. Remember to test equipment ahead of time to avoid technical issues.

4. Building Rapport

Starting the interview with casual conversation can help relax your interviewee, fostering trust and openness. Express genuine interest and gratitude for their willingness to share their story. This rapport often results in more candid and heartfelt narratives.

5. Recording and Documentation

Use high-quality audio or video recording equipment to ensure the clarity of the interview. The TCTC Library staff can offer guidance on best practices and tools. Additionally, take notes during or immediately after the interview to capture impressions, important points, or follow-up questions.
